SEE THE LABEL
ON THE TOP OF EACH BOTTLE OF
HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE
HAIR RESTORATIVE
Has the Signatures of the Proprietors,
W. E. HAGAN & Co.

Every article which has a large and increasing sale
like this is liable to be counterfeited. It is, as its name indicates, entirely "INIMITABLE" as far as its power to restore the hair on bald heads, and to give it the youth, (no matter how gray it may be), is concerned.

USE NO OTHER RESTORATIVE
BUT HEIMSTREET'S
It is the original, the only reliable, and the cheapest.—See the following testimony:
W. R. MURKIN, of JACKSON, Miss., May 29, 1860.
"Having used Heimstreet's Hair Restorative, I advertising agent for Heimstreet's Hair Restorative."
Dear Sir: The Medicines you introduced into our city last winter are all having a large sale, and giving in every case satisfaction. Mr. James Henderson (one of our first citizens) says, that "he has used all of the Hair Dyes and Restoratives of the street, but has never used an article equal to Heimstreet's INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. That it far surpasses any preparation that he has ever tried for restoring the hair of the bald and gray to its original luxuriance and beauty."
You can write the Proprietors, W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N. Y., that they have the cheapest and best Hair Restorative in our market, and that it gives satisfaction in every case.

It is unequalled for PRODUCING
A LUXURIOUS HEAD OF HAIR.
Sold everywhere.—Price 50c to $1 per bottle.

FOR THE MAGNOLIA BALM:
WILL CURE THE WORST
CASE OF PIMPLES IN A SINGLE WEEK

It is so safe a remedy that the contents of a bottle might be drunk without harm. Physicians look with wonder upon its speedy cures, for it has heretofore been thought absolutely necessary to use preparations of mercury to cure immediately, but the MAGNOLIA BALM contains neither. It is the most elegant and neatly put up article for sale anywhere, and may be obtained of all our Apothecaries and Fancy Goods Dealers.
Price Fifty Cents a Bottle.

LITTLE COTTON TO BE HAD FROM EGYPT.—The English papers contain distressing accounts of the damage by the inundation of Egypt, caused by the extraordinary rise of the waters of the Nile. Many villages have been overwhelmed, with great loss of cattle, and even of human life. The greater part of the standing crop of Indian corn is stated to be lost. Granaries, both Government and private, have been flooded, and already, it is said, there is an intention to prohibit the further exportation of grain from Alexandria. From the cotton districts, where the process of picking the first ripe pods had commenced, there are accounts of heavy losses, sufficient to make a material difference in the extent of the crop, an event to be particularly deplored at the present time. One account states that the loss of cotton will reach at least one-third of the entire amount. It will take months to repair the railroads.

Secretary Seward has refused to pay the back salary of the rebel Charles J. Helm, of Ky., late United States Consul at Havana.

We learn that three of the killed among the Confederate forces, by Col. Burbridge's men, at Woodbury, were formerly citizens of Henry county. Their names were Fletcher Smith, Pendleton, and Scooby, all young men.

The Hon. Jos. Holt is in St. Louis. He is one of the commission appointed to examine and decide upon the accounts of contractors and others against the Government in the Military Department.

We learn that another reinforcement of ten thousand men will be thrown into Kentucky this week, from Ohio and Indiana. Most of them will go on the Louisville line of operations.

F. W. Brigham, mail agent between Evansville and Paducah, had resigned, and R. G. Samuel, of Ramsey, McLean county, Ky., has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

Piling it on Pretty Steep.
The Cincinnati Commercial, of Monday, expressed its indignation at the publication of Adjutant Thomas' anti-Fremont report in a very bitter language. Hear how it talks: "The New York Tribune Authorized by the War Department to Publish the Infamous Report of Adjutant-General Thomas."

The New York Tribune of Friday, in an article on the publication of the report of Adjutant-General Thomas, says: "We regret that the Times, in its annoyance, should so lose its temper as to reflect upon a Department of the Government. Whether General Thomas' report was 'wholly unfounded for publication' is a point on which we, at least, do not choose to offer an opinion. It came to us as that of General Stone did, published in the same paper, in regular course from the War Department, with authority to give it to the public through our columns." It is not for us to decide upon the fitness of official reports for publication. On that point the Departments are quite able to judge for themselves, and we should not feel at liberty to reject either General Thomas' or General Stone's for any such reason.

The War Department is eternally disgraced by the publication of this document. It is infamous in the extreme, and must be productive of the worst results. The Secretary of War should be at once kicked out of office for authorizing such a publication. It will give aid and comfort to the enemy, and create disorders and demoralization in Fremont's army at least. Public opinion as to the publication of that report, aside from the Fremont question altogether, is decidedly that the War Department is deeply compromised and disgraced beyond remedy by such a proceeding. The rebels certainly have no need of spies. All the spies in the United States could not collect such 'valuable information' for the enemies of the country as is to be found in that report. Besides its effect on the nations of Europe will be to discredit our national cause, cover it with ridicule, and cause those to whom the Government is committed to be regarded as a set of incapables who are making the war for national salvation a 'screaming farce,' just as Blackwood calls it.

Mob Law in Terre Haute
We regret to have to record that the Journal office was destroyed about 7 o'clock last night by a very large body of men, supposed to belong to the 43d regiment. We know not what excited them to this act, and we write with shame and mortification for the good name of our city, when we record this event. The act was done very suddenly, taking the whole city by surprise. Every thing in the office and composing room, including presses, &c., were hurled into the street in the wildest destruction. It sickens us to think of it.—T. H. Express, 22d.

The destruction of the Journal office was a dastardly act. We are happy to learn that no citizen of Terre Haute took any part in this cowardly affair, and that it is condemned alike by members of all parties. We have seen nothing in the columns of the Journal to justify such an outrageous proceeding. The Colonel of this regiment is Geo. K. Steele, of Parke county, who was absent, and on his return expressed the deepest mortification at the outrage, and says the guilt of the parties can neither be excused nor screened, and announces that all proper facilities will be offered to the civil authorities for the punishment of the offenders, and that a court of inquiry will be awarded for the purpose, and also to recommend the proper proceedings for military punishment.

WANTS A SITUATION.—Times being hard and a cold winter at hand, many really clever persons are at their wit's end for some means of keeping the wolf from the door. Desperation has driven one of them to the dire extremity he so forcibly portrays in the following advertisement:

WANTED—A SITUATION AS SON-IN-LAW in some respectable family. No objections to going a short distance into the country. For references and particulars, address FRANK STUART, Post-office, Williamsburg, New York.

Mr. Stuart ought to have stated whether he can or can not endure average boarding house coffee, and whether he stands or revolts at West India molasses on his slapsacks. It is well to have these matters clearly understood from the start, and thus avoid those domestic bickerings and other evidences of blighted affection which are the bane of married life.

The Suspension of the Writ of Habeas Corpus—Opinions of the Judges of the Circuit Court.

Deputy Marshal Phillips represented to the Circuit Court to-day that he did not serve the rule issued by that body on the 22d inst., to be served on General Andrew Porter, Provost Marshal for the District of Columbia, because he was ordered by the President of the United States not to serve the same, and to report to the Court that the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus has been suspended for the present, by order of the President, in regard to the soldiers of the army of the United States within this District. The Deputy Marshal respectfully disclaims all intention to disobey or treat with disrespect the orders of the Court.

Chief Justice Dunlop delivered an opinion to the Court as follows: "Rule to show cause against General Andrew Porter, Provost Marshal of the District of Columbia, why an attachment of contempt of Court, issued against him for obstructing the process of this Court and the administration of justice under it. The return made by Deputy Marshal Phillips, the 26th of October, we will order to be filed, though we do not doubt our power to regard it as insufficient in law, and to proceed against the officer who made it. The existing condition of the country makes it plain that that officer is powerless against the vast military force of the Executive, subject to his will and order as Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy of the United States.

Assuming the verity of the return, which has been made on oath, the case presented is without parallel in the judicial history of the United States, and involves the free action and efficiency of the Judges of this Court. The President, charged by the Constitution to take care that the laws be executed, has seen fit to arrest the process of this Court, and to forbid the Deputy Marshal to execute it. It does not involve merely the question of the power of the Executive in civil war to suspend the great writ of freedom, the habeas corpus. When this rule was ordered to give efficiency to that writ, no notice had been given by the President to the Courts or the country of such suspension here, now first announced to us, and it will hardly be maintained that the suspension could be retrospective. The rule in this case, therefore, whatever may be the President's power over the writ of habeas corpus, was lawfully ordered, as well as the writ on which it was founded. The facts on which the rule was ordered by the President, because the President had them before him, and has not denied them, but for the Deputy Marshal to serve the rule on General Andrew Porter, the President, we think assumes the responsibilities of the acts of General Porter, set forth in the rule, and sanctions them by his order to Deputy Marshal Phillips not to serve the process on the Provost Marshal.

The issue ought to be, and it is, with the President, and we have no physical power to enforce the lawful process of this Court on his military subordinates. Against the President's prohibition we have exchanged every practicable remedy to uphold the lawful authority of this Court. It is therefore ordered, this 30th day of October, that this opinion of the Court be filed by the Clerk, and made part of the record, as explaining the grounds on which we now decide not to order any further proceedings in this case. Associate Judge Marshall said: As a member of this Court and on its behalf, I wish it understood that, notwithstanding the blow leveled at this Court, I do distinctly assert the following principles: "First—That the law in this country knows no superior. "Second—That the supremacy of the civil authority over the military cannot be denied; that it has been established by the ablest jurists, and, I believe, recognized and respected by the Great Father of the Country during the Revolutionary war. "Third—That the Court ought to be respected by every one, as the guardian of the personal liberty of the citizen, in giving ready and effectual aid by that most valuable means, the writ of habeas corpus. "Fourth—I therefore respectfully protest against the right claimed to interrupt the proceedings in this case."

NEWS FROM SAVANNAH, GA.—We copy the following from the Cincinnati Commercial of the 5th: "A gentleman who has lived many years in the South, arrived in this city yesterday. He left Savannah, Ga., one week ago last Thursday, having spent three days in that city. During that time the French Consul granted eight clearances to vessels, which met with no opposition in leaving the harbor. No United States vessels were seen during the three days, and it was generally stated that a United States ship was only occasionally seen off the harbor. Everybody was expecting the big ship Finland, from England, and Capt. Anderson, of Savannah had left port to receive her. The blockade was laughed at. The feeling against the North was intensely bitter, and all the men had enlisted for the fight. The slaves were left to take care of home affairs, and their masters appeared to have no fear of them. The gentleman alluded to came to Bowling Green, Ky., thence to Cloverport and Louisville. He left Bowling Green last Thursday, and says the rebels were well fortified there; they had plenty of cannon, some of large caliber, and many field pieces, ready for service. He saw a number of Indians, and it was reported there were 500 there, together with 1,500 Texan Rangers, who rode their horses and wore the splendid saddles or bridles, and were splendid riders. The entire rebel force in that vicinity, as far as he could gather, was from 40,000 to 60,000, and men were arriving at the rate of from 300 to 400 a day. On Wednesday orders were issued and parties sent out to collect 500 wagons, numbers of which were brought in when this gentleman passed through. He saw one man clap his hands together, and him exclaiming, 'I'll bet any amount Buckner is in Louisville in fifteen days.' Camps were said to extend for five miles along the road, and he saw three separate camps in the immediate neighborhood of the place. Our informant lived twenty-five years in the South. Last summer his family came North, and about seven weeks ago, he came also, returned again as stated, and found all his property confiscated and some of his effects sold. He said it was possible he left himself. He affirms that mild treatment will not accomplish the object of the United States Government. All acts indicating consideration are ridiculed and despised."

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.
The steam gunboat Florida, one of the naval expedition, has returned to the Navy Yard, disabled. She left the expedition on Friday night off Cape Fear. She reports that the fleet encountered a heavy gale soon after leaving Hampton, but it died out on Wednesday and again revived on Thursday from the southeast. On Thursday night the machinery of the Florida was disabled, but not seriously, and can be repaired in three days, when she will resume her voyage. She had no troops on board.

Certain persons are endeavoring to revive in Paris the use of the funeral pyre and the preservation of the ashes of the dead in urns instead of the system of inhumation.

M., adjourn at 5 o'clock, P. M. Resolved, That the B. W. Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F., of Kentucky, heartily and unanimously adopt and approve the following preamble and resolutions, which were adopted by the Grand Lodge of the United States at its last September term at Baltimore: "WHEREAS, The very spirit of Odd-Fellowship—the life which breathes over all the world—the profession it makes everywhere, and at all times, recognizing that one nation is the earth, and the brotherhood of man is the basis of all civilization; and that this is one of its boasts—one pillar of its strength. And whereas, its universal adaptation to the wants of man in the demonstration that its principles are inspired, its doctrines divine. And whereas, the trouble, discord, and faction that so often and so severely prevail in and between the various associations of the day, enters not the portals of Odd-Fellowship; and whereas, the bickerings, the jealousies, the strifes for place and power, the spirit of dissension, the selfishness of self, the contests of sections, and of party, which pervade society, embitter friendships, and occasionally even desecrate the sanctuaries, have cast no shadow within our Lodges. And whereas, to cement more strongly the ties that bind us together, and to renew our vows and devotions upon the sacred altar of Odd-Fellowship; be it, therefore, Resolved, That the perpetuity of Odd-Fellowship, and the brotherhood of man, can only be maintained and exercised by a rigid adherence to its ritual and fundamental laws. Resolved, That the members of this Grand Lodge will employ every means, and will endeavor to impress upon the minds of their constituents, the necessity of so doing; to cultivate and practice these sentiments and principles which will be best calculated to preserve our beloved Order intact, wherever its benign influence has spread—wherever the banner of Odd-Fellowship has been unfurled. Resolved, That it is the duty of every good Odd Fellow, at all times, so to act, and so to speak, that their words and deeds may give no just cause of offense to those whose circumstances have, for the time being, been cut off from friendly and social intercourse with us. Resolved, That this Grand Lodge hopes, and will continue to hope, that the trying difficulties now existing, and which have shaken our common country to its very foundation, may be speedily and amicably settled, and that the storm which is now raging in the hearts of the people of this once peaceful and happy land, may be assuaged, and the clouds which have darkened the hopes and blighted the prospects of a whole nation, may be swept away, giving place to a cloudless sky—a bright and gracious sunshine, shading peace, harmony, and joy over and throughout this wide spread land."

The State Prisoners Removed.—Fort Lafayette evacuated.—Departure of Gen. Fremont and his staff for Boston.

On Tuesday last United States Marshal Murray, acting in pursuance of orders received by him from the Secretary of State at Washington, proceeded to Fort Lafayette to give instructions to Col. Burke, commander of the fort, for the removal of the prisoners there confined to other quarters. This was not unexpected orders, as some time past the government determined to make Fort Warren, in Boston harbor, the headquarters of the rebels now in their hands, and they were to be hereafter arrested, and Fort Warren has been prepared for the reception of any number of State prisoners, and a most trustworthy officer, Col. Dimmick, has been entrusted with the command. There were some cogent reasons for this removal of the prisoners, perhaps the strongest being that Fort Warren is a much more secure place of detention than Fort Lafayette. The reason, however, of more interest to the confederates themselves is, that they can be much more comfortably accommodated in their new quarters.

In accordance with the recommendation of the Marshal, several persons, against whom no special treason or disloyalty is charged, will be liberated on their taking the oath of allegiance, which they are ready to do. By the removal to Fort Warren the prisoners will be deprived of the visits of friends and secret sympathizers, a number of whom got admittance to Fort Lafayette yesterday morning at eleven o'clock, when the work of removal commenced. Many of the more violent of these secessionists are most violent in their language against the government, and threaten to hold Mr. Seward personally responsible, should they ever be able to confront him as free men. Among the most aggrieved of the prisoners is ex-Governor Morehead, of Kentucky, but he justifies himself by saying that, though favorable to Southern independence, he never committed any overt act against the government. As to Mr. Lowber, who endeavored to make his escape the other day, he is the only man among them with "gyves upon his wrist."

In accordance with all these preparations, at an early hour yesterday morning the prisoners were removed in a tugboat to Governor's Island, where, after a short detention, they were placed on board the State of Maine, which had been chartered for the purpose, and sent to Boston. A guard of two hundred men from Fort Hamilton accompany the prisoners.

It is understood that Marshal Kane, Mr. Barren, formerly of the United States Navy, and the prisoners now in Fort Columbus, will also be removed to Fort Morgan, together with Charley Barkley, who was sent from Fort Lafayette to Bedloe's Island.

TELEGRAPHIC.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 3.

Yesterday small bodies of the enemy came within twelve miles of us, and news was received of the approach of their advance, 2,800 strong. Preparations were making to go out and attack them, when Gen. Fremont received the unconditional order from relieving him, at once, from his command. Simultaneously came the newspapers announcing the intelligence, which spread like wild-fire through the camps, and created indescribable excitement and indignation. Great numbers of officers signified their intention to resign at once, and many companies laid down their arms, declaring that they would fight under no one but Gen. Fremont. The General spent much of the afternoon expostulating with the officers and urging them by their patriotism and their personal regard for him, not to abandon their posts. He also issued the following farewell orders to the troops: "HEADQUARTERS WESTERN DEPARTMENT, SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 2, 1861. Soldiers of the Mississippi Army: Agreeably to an order this day received, I take leave of you. Although our army has been of sudden growth, we have grown up together, and I have become familiar with the brave and generous spirit which you bring to the defense of your country, and which makes me anticipate for you a brilliant career. Continue as you have begun, and give to my successors the same cordial and enthusiastic support with which you have encouraged me to do the noble army which I have thus far labored to bring together. Soldiers, I regret to leave you. Most sincerely I thank you for the regard and confidence you have invariably shown to me. I deeply regret that I shall not have the honor to lead you to victory which you are just about to win, but I shall claim to share with you in the joy of every triumph and trust always to be fraternally remembered by my companions in arms. J. C. FREMONT, Maj. Gen. U. S. A."

The feeling ran intensely high during the whole of last evening, and there were meetings almost everywhere in various bands around the General, and whenever he appeared he was greeted with cheers. After notifying Gen. Hunter, as his order directed, that he had no longer command over the troops, he spent several hours in making a personal examination of the ground about the city, to be prepared for a battle, and in accordance with a written request from all the Brigadier-Generals here, remained through the night. To be prepared for an attack, all the troops slept on their arms. Many officers remained up all night, and an attack was hourly expected, but nothing new occurred except the firing into our pickets on two different roads.

The enemy are now encamped on the old Wilson-creek battle-ground. General Fremont is prepared to leave for St. Louis, and will go as soon as General Pope arrives, who has been sent for, and will take command till General Hunter gets here. Universal gloom prevails throughout the camps. A battle will undoubtedly occur ere long. Our troops will meet the enemy finally, but they are disheartened and lost their enthusiasm. The body guard, who could not be induced to remain, will now disband, as the terms of their enlistment permit them to accompany Gen. Fremont, and also his entire staff, including Gen. Asboth, commander of the First Division. Gen. Fremont will permit no demonstration from the troops on his departure.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.
The War Department received a dispatch late this evening from Gen. Rosecrans, stating that Gen. Floyd had made an attack upon him, but he had repulsed him with great loss. Gen. Rosecrans further states that one officer with a pretty large force had got in the rear of Floyd, and the presumption was that Floyd and his entire command would be surrounded and captured.

Gen. McClellan has occupied to-day in ascertaining the strength, condition, and disposition of the army of the United States, the command of which has so suddenly devolved upon him. He has called upon the War Department for a statement of the whole number of men and where posted; and the total estimate of material and how distributed. He will be occupied several days in systematizing and arranging these matters, so that the burden of the management of military affairs may be safely confided to the Adjutant General's office, and afford the General an opportunity to devote his attention especially to the affairs of the army of the Potomac, remaining under his immediate command.

[Times Dispatch.]
The Resolute arrived at Washington last night, and reports that several of our soldiers have been wounded by the shot and shells from the batteries at Shipping Point. By order of the War Department, the Provost Marshal of Alexandria has been directed to suspend the exercise of the civil functions he has recently performed, and to dismiss all the civil cases of which he has taken cognizance.

In the Supreme Court yesterday the distinguished members of Parliament and Queen's Counsel, Mr. James, was admitted to the New York bar. It is understood that he intends to make this city his home. The Government has contracted with parties in Philadelphia for the construction of an iron-clad steamship, and the keel has been laid. The vessel will be 240 feet long, 78 feet beam, and 30 feet depth of hold, and will be armed with 16 of the largest rifled cannon.

The freshest in the Potomac is so great that the Long Bridge has been impassable to-day, being overflowed. The water is subsiding to-night. Notwithstanding the late terrific rain storm, the roads in Virginia to-day were found to be in excellent condition. Government stores lying in the warehouses on the wharves have suffered a good deal. The steamer Mount Vernon has returned from the bottom, and reports the condition of affairs down the Potomac unchanged. Maj. Gen. Halleck, of California, has arrived here. He was introduced to the President to-day by Gen. McClellan.

FORTRESS MONROE, Nov. 4.
At about three o'clock this afternoon the steamer Monticello, from the blockading fleet off Savannah, arrived and reported that it had passed the whole fleet Saturday night within thirty miles of Bull Bay. The storm had nearly abated and her officers have no doubt that they entered Bull Bay Sunday morning and landed within 25 miles of Charleston. This point of the coast is but slightly fortified. A Norfolk paper of Monday says that the destination of the fleet is known to be Port Royal, which is sixty miles north of Bull Bay.

Sixty contrabands came into the fortress and fleet on Monday. They report that many of the troops have been withdrawn from Great Bethel, Yorktown, and the vicinity of Norfolk, but don't know where they have gone. Passengers by the flag of truce say that no information had been received at Norfolk relative to the fleet at 10 o'clock on Monday morning. The Day Book of Norfolk mentions a rumor that Gen. Beauregard had resigned, and also publishes a dispatch from Richmond mentioning a similar rumor there.
